

McKEE ROAD TO BE BUILT FIRST

And Then All State-Aid Highways in Madison County, If Special Tax Is Voted

The largest crowd that has attended a session of the Madison Fiscal Court in many years was present Monday morning when the court voted to accept state-aid on the highway to McKee, Jackson county, and at the same time voted to recommend a road tax or bond issue for improvement of the other main highways in the county and for a citizens' committee to co-operate with the court in handling the road problems of the county.

This action was taken only after extended debate in the county court room Monday morning when the road question for Madison county was threshed out along every angle. The Citizens' Committee named by the court met at 2 o'clock in the afternoon and voted for a 20c road tax for a period of five years to be used for meeting state-aid on every inter-county project that shall be approved. A committee composed of Messrs. Harvey Chenault, County Judge J. D. Goodloe and County Road Engineer J. G. Baxter was named to draw up and formulate submission of the road tax question to the voters at the November election.

The members of the special Citizens' Committee as named by the Fiscal Court to co-operate with them, are:

Messrs. M. C. Kellogg, R. E. Turley, John Gay, Harvey Chenault, R. M. Rowland, Arch Hamilton, Walter F. Park and Rice Woods.

The adoption of a motion offered by Magistrate Dave Smith for the acceptance of the McKee project as offered by the State Department, occasioned the liveliest sort of argument. Before the debate had gotten well under way Rice Woods, of Paint Lick, offered a resolution providing for the appointment of a special citizens' committee and voting of a bond issue or special road tax to improve all inter-county roads on the state-aid plan.

S. M. Saufley, who has fought early and often for the McKee road, said that he was heartily in favor of Mr. Woods' resolution, but with the reservation that the McKee project be endorsed first and then the Woods' resolution. He declared that adoption of the Woods resolution would provide means for acceptance of all state-aid projects and insure that when a state-aid plan was offered one section of the county another would not object on the ground that it was not being taken care of.

Numerous speeches were made and the whole range of good roads in Madison was covered. Luther Little, attorney of McKee, Jackson county, made a most compelling plea in conclusion. He begged for an outlet for the riches of the mountains and Jackson county in particular. The court then went into executive session and at its conclusion the vote was announced as follows:

For acceptance of the McKee Road—For it: Magistrates Collins, Sandlin, Smith and Isaacs. Against it: Magistrates Tipton, Burgin and Long. Magistrate Long was absent. The acceptance of the McKee project was announced as carried 4 to 3.

The Woods resolution was then carried unanimously so as to provide means for building not only the road to McKee and up Big Hill, but all the other state-aid projects in the county. The election is called for November. The McKee project and every other state-aid project will depend on this vote. Mr. Woods' resolution reads as follows:

Be it resolved, That this meeting go on record as being in favor of the building of the proposed Richmond-McKee pike to the Jackson county line, and of the building of the remainder of the Irvine pike to the Estill county line, and of the building of the Lancaster pike to the Garrard county line, and of the building of the Boonesboro pike to the Clark county line, and Tate's Creek pike to Jessamine county line, all of said pikes to be built or reconstructed to a standard acceptable to the State Highway Commission for maintenance as State Aid Roads, and also of the building of the remainder of the Lexington pike to the Kentucky river, such construction to be of a standard acceptable to the Federal Government as a State and Federal Aid Road. Roads to be built so the State will accept them.

The Fiscal Court of Madison county is requested to go on record as favorable to this building of these proposed projects, providing only, that the voters and taxpayers of Madison county, Kentucky, provide means and place at the disposal of said court for the payment of the expense of such building or reconstruction.

That the County Judge is requested to name and appoint nine representative business men or farmers, who are citizens and residents of Madison county, and that these nine men act as a committee to sit with the Fiscal Court and give their voice of approval or disapproval of all contracts entered into by said court for the building and reconstruction of said roads, and that these nine men meet with said court at once and that they and the said court agree upon a most suitable plan to submit to the voters of Madison county for either Bond Issue or Special Road Tax, or both, to provide the means necessary to carry out these provisions, and that the County Judge cause the publication of the names of the men so selected and of their duties as members of this committee.

Jackson county sent a number of representative citizens down to the meeting Monday morning to see what Madison would do to help her out of the mud. Among them were County Judge C. P. Moore, Attorney Luther Little, who made one of the best speeches for the road, Squire W. M. Hurst, ex-Representative Hiram N. Dean, Robert Abrams and Nelson Hurst.

It was estimated at the joint meeting of the Citizens' Committee and the members of the Fiscal Court in the afternoon that a total of $300,000 would be sufficient to take care of all of Madison's part of state-aid projects, so a 20 cent road tax was recommended and will be submitted to the voters at the November election.

Warriner's Plan
(By Associated Press) Philadelphia, Aug. 14—S. D. Warriner's offer to end the hard coal strike said that mine owners are willing to resume operations in the anthracite fields at the old wage scale pending appointment of a commission to investigate the situation. Warriner's action followed a conference with United States Senator Pepper, during which Pepper read a letter from President Harding, saying that further delay in resumption of mining means "danger, nothing short of nation-wide disaster."

Cleveland, O., Aug. 14—The conference here designed to end the soft coal strike neared a show down today when the joint sub-scale committee met members and were informed of the agreement made by John Lewis, president of the miners, and Michael Gallagher, heading the operators. Both leaders refused to be moved from their opposing stands on compulsory arbitration.

HARDMAN TRIAL TO BE HELD WEDNESDAY

Youth Accused of Renaker Murder Unperturbed—No Insurance Paid Yet

Winchester, Ky., Aug. 14—The examining trial of Scobee Hardman, 22, son of a wealthy Bourbon county farmer, under arrest on a warrant charging murder in connection with the slaying of Leon Renaker, Winchester business man, July 25, will be held at Winchester before Judge R. S. Scobee. The date for the trial was set Saturday afternoon at a conference between County Attorney H. H. Moore and Judge Smith Hays, one of Hardman's attorneys.

The defense requested that the preliminary trial be held Tuesday, but the later date was set at the suggestion of the commonwealth to allow more time to summon witnesses and prepare for the hearing.

Judge Scobee announced that he will vacate the bench at the preliminary trial because of a distant relationship with the accused man's family. Hardman's first name was given him because of this family relationship. H. B. Scrivner, police judge of Winchester, will preside at the trial Wednesday, it was said, after the conference at which the trial date was set. None of Renaker's insurance, consisting of more than $52,000, carried with seven different companies, has been paid, according to representatives of the insurance companies.

All the policies carried an accidental death clause, which, in some cases, doubles the face value of the policies in case of accidental death. One of the policies was written four months before Renaker's death.

Smaller policies were carried with three other companies. J. W. Glass, a detective, has been at work on the case for several days as representative of an insurance company which he declined to name, it became known today.

It was freely rumored that activities of detectives employed by insurance companies hastened the arrest of Hardman, whom local officials and other detectives say they have had under observation for some time.

Detective Glass, who is in close touch with the sheriff's force, said today that there is as yet no contest to payment of insurance policies.

He said he was not working with any other detectives and that results of his investigation are available only to headquarters of his company.

All the policies carried on Renaker's life are payable in the case holder is murdered, unless conspiracy is proved or evidence tends to show that death could not be considered as an accident, insurance men said.

Agents of companies with which Renaker carried insurance commented on the fact that Renaker always took advantage of the "death by accident" clause which in some cases makes the policies worth twice their face values.

Renaker's insurance will be paid so far as is known at this time, insurance agents said. Immediate settlement will not be made, but will await results of the examining trial of Hardman and the reports of detectives employed by the insurance companies. Among the policies carried by Renaker were the following:

Metropolitan Life Insurance Company, $7,500, with $10,000 value in case of accidental death. Kentucky Central Life Insurance Company, $2,000, with an accidental death clause which increased its value.

Aetna Life Insurance Company, $10,000 with double value in case of accidental death. Equitable Life Insurance Company $6,000, with increased value of accidental death.

Since his arrest, which occurred fifteen days after the discovery of "Kentucky's" most mysterious murder, young Hardman has maintained a cheerful silence regarding his arrest and the charges against him.

When seen at the Winchester jail Saturday, following his re-

COMBS HITS TWO OUT OF FIVE SUNDAY

In Sunday's baseball game between Louisville and Milwaukee Earle Combs, local star, drove out two singles in five times up for an average of .400 for the day. One came in the third inning when Louisville scored four runs. He drove Acosta to third with his single, both scoring on Kirke's triple. Combs continued his good fielding, handling two chances with ease.

The averages which appear weekly in the Courier-Journal show Combs is hitting at a .330 clip. He is second on the Louisville team and well up in the Association. Most critics think he will be playing in one of the big leagues next year. Several clubs have made offers for him and many scouts have looked him over with favorable impression. Louisville has decided to hold on to Combs for the present at least.

Man Fined For Hugging Own Wife in Beattyville

Beattyville, Ky., Aug. 14—A Lee county man was fined $13.65 in police court on testimony that he had hugged his wife in public when they met here after a separation of several months. The court held that, to the unknowing public, hugging in the open constituted disorderly conduct, regardless of relationship.

He said there is nothing remarkable about him keeping up his courage, "because an innocent man has nothing to fear." In giving a reason for his keeping silent Hardman said to a leader representative "if a man doesn't tell anything he has nothing to lose."

The young man's father and his lawyers were in conference with him for more than an hour. Hardman declined to say what the purpose of the conference was, but it is supposed it had to do with plans for the preliminary trial.

MEN OPERATING STILL CAPTURED

Four Shiners Are Brought To Richmond After Successful Raids Last Friday

Three big moonshine raids were conducted in this county Friday. Three parties were out and all had good results. Federal Officer Tarter, Deputy Sheriff R. O. Moberly and Hugh Samuels composed a party which raided a section of this county about two miles above Valley View. They captured three men at the still where they were stirring the mash. The still was destroyed but no worm could be found. Those captured were Elmer and Sim Vanderpool, and Jesse Mcelford. The last named is from Fayette county, while the others are residents of Madison.

Sheriff Elmer Deatherage, Ben Davis, R. E. Duff and Jeff Robertson raided the Red Lick section where they captured Otis Stevens and destroyed the still alleged to be operated by him. When arrested Stevens offered some resistance but was quite calm by the time he was near Richmond. He had a very complete apparatus with a slide which led the officers to his house where he was captured.

Deputy Sheriff Franklin Deatherage was a member of a party which worked Paint Lick creek. They crossed into Garrard county and finally into Lincoln where they destroyed a still.

Thursday Deputies R. O. Moberly and Franklin Deatherage with William Crutcher made a raid in the county just below Boonesboro. After a hard trip and in the latter part of the day, the two deputies came upon a still which was destroyed and the mash poured out. No men were captured. Previous raids last week made it a very successful one for the officers.

PAINT LICK DOWNS HARRODSBURG AGAIN

Paint Lick journeyed to Harrodsburg Friday where they defeated the base ball nine of that city by a score of 4 to 2. Jim Lackey wsgain in theaculty.Cxii Lackey was the big thing in Harrodsburg defeat. He pitched wonderful ball all the way besides cracking out two hits. Harrodsburg started big by scoring two runs in the first inning. Rowan hit a home run over Duerson's head in center field with a man on base who got there on Ginter's error. Paint Lick, however, came back in the fifth and scored three runs on clean hits which was enough to win. They wanted to make sure of the game so they added another in the sixth while Lackey kept the opposition away from the plate in all innings except the first. His work was superb. Duerson and S. Rogers were the fielding stars of the victorious Paint Lick aggregation. All of Paint Lick's runs were the result of clean hitting.

Their line up is as follows: Patrick, catcher; Jim Lackey, pitcher; S. Rogers, first; Roop, second; Ginter, short; J. B. Lackey, third; Hensley, left; Duerson, center; C. Dunn, right. All of the boys who have played most of their ball in Richmond played well. They are Ginter, S. Rogers, and the Lackey brothers.

MISS M. Q. COVINGTON'S SUNDAY SCHOOL PICNIC

The Sunday School teachers of the Madison County Christian churches met at Miss Mary Q. Covington's home Sunday afternoon at 5 o'clock for a picnic hour. The Sunday school teachers and superintendents of Madison county Christian churches have organized a Madison County Sunday School Association with frequent conferences. This meeting was the fourth conference for the year.

The first conference was held in January at the First Christian church and it consisted of a banquet for the Madison county superintendents and the officers of the county convention. The second conference was held in February under the direction of Miss Gilbert, state elementary supervisor. The third conference was held in May at Kirksville under the leadership of Mr. Neale McGowan, state superintendent. The fourth meeting was held on Miss Mary Q. Covington's lawn Sunday afternoon, August 6th.

About 43 Sunday School teachers and seven superintendents were present at this meeting. The following Madison county Christian churches were represented: First Christian church 23; Second Christian church 3; Mt. Zion 10; Newby 5; Mt. Pleasant 5; Kirksville 3 and Speedwell 2. Union, Flatwoods, Berea and the Pond Christian churches were not represented. Did these churches have good excuses? Did these churches let their Sunday School teachers forget their religious places in this meeting Sunday?

The following program was given. Graded Sunday School Literature was discussed. Mr. John Arnold, president of the county association, presided at the meeting. Miss Mary Q. Covington, superintendent of Madison county, assisted Mr. Arnold. Mrs. Boggs discussed Intermediate Sunday School Literature. Miss Mollie Allman discussed Junior Graded Literature. Mrs. Quisenberry gave an exhibit of primary pictures. Mrs. Simmons discussed primary work. Little Miss Louise Covington Haynes demonstrated how children should celebrate their birthdays at Sunday School with a contribution box and an artificial birthday cake. Louise celebrated her tenth birthday with this demonstration and a song. Miss Cynthia Davison sang a beautiful solo.

After the program a delicious lunch was served on the lawn. All the members brought their own lunches so the spirit of eat and be merry was revealed by all who were present. At the close of the evening Miss Mary Q. Covington announced that the Madison County Sunday School Teachers were always invited to meet at her home for this annual picnic. The invitation was greeted with a cheery acceptance. The organization then adjourned. The next meeting will be held on the 14th of September at the First Christian church. This will consist of a two days' conference under the direction of several state officers.

The Madison County Sunday School Teachers and Superintendents are beginning to see a great vision for a wide religious campaign in Madison county. The churches are forgetting their small differences and are being organized into new plans for religious unity. The teachers are assembling in a mass to solve boys' and girls' religious problems in Madison county and not for one little community. Sunday School teachers and superintendents, forget the four walls of your little churches, your homes, your schools and your community and look with a great, broad view into other churches, other homes and other schools and other communities. "Lord God of Hosts, be with us yet, lest we forget—lest we forget." —Contributed.

SAYS SADDLE HORSE IS RETURNING TO HIS OWN

(By Associated Press)

Louisville, Ky., Aug. 12 — The saddle horse is coming back, according to E. S. Akin, a special investigator for the Horse Association of America, who has visited 46 of the leading cities of the United States collecting statistics relative to the present standing of the horse both as a commercial proposition and a means of personal transportation.

Mr. Akin, who was in Louisville in connection with the convention of the National Harness Manufacturers' and Leather Goods Dealers Association to be held here August 21 and 22, said that the signs pointing to the return of the saddle horse, which has to some extent been eclipsed by the automobile in recent years are unmistakable.

The message brought by Mr. Akin is of particular interest to Kentucky, for it is in this state that some of the greatest saddle horses of all time have been produced. There still are many breeders in Kentucky who will welcome a return to popularity of the saddle.

Wayne Dinsmore, secretary of the Horse Association of America, will address the harness men's convention during its second day's session on the subject of the saddle horse and his brightened prospects. Mr. Akin said, and every breeder in the state interested in this subject is urged to be present.

Not only are persons socially prominent and possessed of more than average means turning to the saddle horse, but Mr. Akin found, in many of the eastern cities, clerks and stenographers and persons engaged in similar work in an increasing number were renting animals for horseback jaunts after the day at the office had been finished.

In practically all of the larger cities in the north and east he found great interest being taken in the extension and improvement of bridle paths in parks and to points of interest nearby. This, he said, was one of the strongest indications of the rapidly winning favor from the city dwellers.

A whisky still sent by mail from Middlesboro was delivered to Revenue Agent Kinnaird, at Lancaster. The still was seized in a raid and being a federal officer he was privileged to use the mails.

Mrs. Mary Duncan and Mrs. H. J. Bennett, of Jacksonville, Florida, were with relatives here Friday enroute to Irvine for a visit to Mr. and Mrs. B. K. Duncan and Mr. and Mrs. Joe Shear-

MANY ENJOY RADIO CONCERTS

The radio concerts at the Normal Friday were very successful. The one in the afternoon was without static to mar the concert which was composed of popular numbers as well as a few high class selections. The numbers were very distinct and heard by the audience as if the players were before them. This concert was from the radio sending station at Louisville.

In the evening the concert was composed of numbers from the various stations over the country including the General Electric Company at Scheectady, New York, which is over 800 miles from here. Other radio sending stations from which selections were heard are Atlanta, Cincinnati, East Pittsburg, and from a naval training station near Washington, D. C. From there came some of the most pleasing numbers played by the Marine Naval Band there. The numbers from Schneetady were also very fine. This sending station is conceded to be the best in the country. Atlanta was also heard very plain. The base ball scores and other news was given out

HUSTLERS BEATEN BY MT. VERNON

The Blue Lick Hustlers were defeated at Mt. Vernon, Saturday by the fast baseball nine of that city in a very loosely played game, 13 to 8. Eddie Paige pitched his second game for the Hustlers and was touched freely and at all times. The playing team was accustomed to it while the Hustlers could not get used to the bumpy. Williams relieved Paige after the game was lost and held Mt. Vernon to one run in the last three innings. Murtill hurled fair ball for the winners but was touched pretty freely toward the close of the contest. Blue Lick was not as strong as it might have been, only four regulars taking part in the game. Bowman at second and Mullins behind the bat were the best in the field for the victors.

Local followers of the Hustlers will be pleased to hear of the big games this week. They will meet Harrodsburg there Friday, August 18, and the Lexington Regulars at Johnson. Park Sunday, the 20th.

HUNTING CAMP OF "LONG HUNTERS"

(By Associated Press)
Lexington, Ky., Aug. 14 — Traces of the camp of the "long hunters," famous in the annals of Kentucky history the latter part of 18th century, may be found by a party of Lexingtonians who plan to explore a cave near Mill Springs, Wayne County, the latter part of this month.

The "long hunters," it is related, came to Kentucky in 1770 from the Holstein, the Clinch and the New River region and pitched camp in Wayne county about 6 miles from the present sight of Monticello. From here they scattered in various directions to seek game, agreeing to return every five weeks to deposit the fruits of their labor at the common camp.

The adventurous spirit of the "long hunters," however prevented them from keeping their agreement. The band of forty gradually drifted apart. Finally, in the early part of 1771 the nine remaining members of the band set out for home with the pelts they had gathered. At Cumberland Gap they were met by a band of Cherokees who relieved them of their valuable burden and they returned home empty-handed.

The party of explorers will be by Prof. A. M. Miller, head of the department of geology University of Kentucky. Those who probably will accompany him will be Prof. W. S. Webb and Dr. Fee Tuttle, of the University faculty, Vivitor K. Dodge and Samuel M. Wilson.

In addition to seeking traces of the "long hunters" camp, the explorers hope to find evidences of the occupation of the cave before the coming of the white men. The cave is located near a well traveled road. Early accounts of the "long hunters" say they found near the caves evidences of former occupation, such as rock-enclosed graves and the like.

The preliminary report issued by the United States Department of Agriculture on August 7 gives the following comparative stocks on August 1:

1922.....	10,030,000 cases
1921.....	7,605,000 cases
Excess.....	2,425,000 cases

A larger volume of spring chickens is reaching the market.

MORGAN'S MEN TO LEXINGTON

Deatherage will head a delegation from here to Lexington where they will attend the gathering of the remaining members of Morgan's Men at the Lexington Country Club Tuesday and Wednesday of this week. All ex-Confederate soldiers are invited to be in attendance. The former wearers of the Gray are planning a great time the 15th and 16th. The National Trade-mark

Old silversmiths, in order to help people tell pure silver from cheaper imitations, marked the real thing "sterling."

In a like manner, manufacturers, who stand back of their wares, identify them with trade marks that are your guarantee of quality.

By advertising these trademarks, they focus on their products the searchlight of attention.

Only good goods, fairly priced, can flourish in this light of publicity. For no merchandise and no business can thrive under the weight of public condemnation.

That is why a manufacturer, or a merchant, places the whole reputation of his business at stake every time he advertises. His goods must be as advertised.

So, in looking through this paper remember this: the man who spends his money to invite your consideration of his wares, backs up his belief in his goods and leaves the final decision to you.

It pays to read the advertisements. It pays you to buy advertised products.
